Players: 3-5
Playing time: 15 minutes
Ages: 8 and up

Do you want to try your hand in corruption? We're a corrupt business firm and today we're going to make a killing without the middleman! After finding a bargain, let's make a deal. But being friendly is just for appearances! You'll have to outwit everyone even your superiors! Corruption is deception. Do you have what it takes?

Contents

Cards: 54

Nakanuki Cards: 45 (5 kinds x 9 each)

Case Cards: 8

Starting Player Card: 1

Rule Sheets: 2 (Japanese, English)

· Case Card ·

Budget amount → (in billions)   ← The number shown indicates the number of players the card can be used for.

Game Summary

For each round, the starting player draws 1 Case Card. Next, clockwise from the starting player, each player decides on a factory direct price and puts it face down. When everyone has decided, flip the cards to show the prices and confirm if it is within the budget. If the total of the factory direct price is within the Case Card's budget, then the deal is a success. Each players · proposed price then becomes the score they receive. If it exceeds the budget, the deal is a failure and the greediest player with the highest price takes responsibility and puts their cards on the discard pile. (The other players put their cards back in their hand.) Play until all the Nakanuki Cards are used. At the end of the game, the player with the most money (score) is the winner.

Set Up

1. Shuffle the 45 Nakanuki Cards face down and give each player 3 cards each. The remaining Nakanuki Cards will be the stack and placed in the middle of the table.

2. The number on the top right of the Case Cards indicates the number of players for which the card can be used. Pick them out accordingly. For 3 players, use 6 cards from 7 billion to 15 billion. For 4 players, add the 18 billion cards to the 6 cards. For 5 players, add the 20 billion cards face up and take out the 7 billion cards.

3. The player who found a bargain recently will be the starting player. Or you can choose at random. They receive the starting player card.

Game Play

The game advances in rounds. For each round, follow these procedures.

1. The starting player chooses the Case Card. From the Case Cards showing face up, pick one card and put it in the middle of the table.

2. Going clockwise from the starting player, draw a Nakanuki Card from your hand and place it face down in front of you. You can draw multiple cards, but make sure other players can see how many cards you have placed down.
   If you can't place a card (or decide not to participate in this round), draw 3 cards from stack. If the stack has run out of cards, you can't draw anymore cards.

   *The only way to draw cards in this game is to not participate in the round.

3. When everyone has decided whether to place cards, the cards face down will turned over face up at the same time. Total the number shown on the Nakanuki Cards.

· When the total is within the budget :
   Each players Nakanuki Card will add up to be their score, turn the cards face down place it to the side.

· When the total is over the budget :
   The player with the highest total price puts all the cards they placed on the discard pile. You won't use them again. Please put them back in the box. If there are 2 or more players with the same total, the player who went first will put their cards on the discard pile. The rest of the players who didn't discard return all their Nakanuki Cards back to their hand.

4. Regardless whether the round was a success or failure, flip the Case Card face down and put it back in line with the other Case Cards. If there is only 1 Case Card left that's face up, flip the rest of the Case Cards face up. (It's possible to draw them again.)

5. The starting player card moves to the player on the left. The next round starts with that player. If at the beginning of the round the stack has run out of cards, the final stage begins. Thereafter, when any one deal succeeds, immediately the game finishes.(The game continues as long as deals fail)

End of the Game

Each player totals their score. The player with the most money will be the Rising Star of the Corrupt Business Firm.
In case of a tie, the player with the most cards remaining is the winner. If it's still a tie, share the win.